Things get pretty awkward on Monday's episode of Jane the Virgin and we've got the clips to prove it!

Jane met her father, Rogelio, who's played by actor Jaime Camil earlier this season.

Camil's character is a popular Telenova star, who's used to gaining attention from others, because of his handsome looks. But Jane isn't impressed by all of the glitz and glamor that follows his life. She wants something deeper, but can she have that?

Watch Rogelio fumble below when the pair meets up for dinner:

Jane will also deal with moving in with Michael and her feelings for Raphael. Will she continue to keep that a secret?

Catch an all new episode of Jane the Virgin tonight right here on The CW at 9pm.
